Report of the School Board

FOR THE ### Town School District of Northfield.

Citizens of the Town District:

In submitting to your consideration the following brief report, it gives us pleasure to note the prosperous and harmonious condition of our school affairs at the present time.

The year eighteen hundred ninety-five marks a golden era in the history of Northfield schools. The very generous appropriation voted for educational purposes at the meeting last March, has given the scholars of the town district the benefit of more weeks of public instruction than they have enjoyed during any previous year. The summer schools were in session ten weeks each, the fall schools from fourteen to eighteen weeks. We believe that these weeks were generally spent in faithful and patient instruction on the part of teachers, and in diligent and profitable study on the part of pupils.

So much has been said in former years concerning the lack of parental interest in school work that any remarks on that score at this time may seem superfluous, yet it is a subject upon which too much can scarcely be said. It cannot reasonably be expected that children can be thoroughly interested in their school duties unless the fathers and mothers are interested likewise, and show that they are so by visiting the school-room occasionally, not in a fault finding mood, but that they may become familiar with the methods of the teacher and so better able to cooperate in her efforts. There would be fewer absent and tardy marks upon our records if parents realized the loss of interest and enthusiasm which these marks represent.

Believing that the best of everything is none too good for the boys and girls of Northfield, we have placed in each school a set of Good Citizenship charts, which will we think be an important help to teachers in presenting the too often neglected subject of Civil Government to the future citizens and voters of the town. We have also purchased two additional Geographical Portfolios, making three now owned by the district. The Portfolio consists of a series of plates illustrating geographical terms and adapted to be of practical value in both teaching and studying this essential branch of knowledge. During the fall term, a system of drawing was introduced which will doubtless prove a source of much profit and enjoyment.

To unite or not to unite was the first problem which presented itself for solution at the beginning of the year. After the arguments on both sides had been duly weighed, it was deemed most wise and economical to combine schools wherever practicable, and accordingly it was done in two instances. This is a matter which will not cease to be troublesome until the advantages resulting from larger schools and longer terms are fully realized, and those concerned are willing to suffer a little remunerated inconvenience for the sake of the greatest good of the greatest number.

In conclusion, let us say that we hope the spirit of liberality and progressiveness which has made the past year a memorable one, may continue to reign until Northfield shall be known as the town which places the education of its youth above every other interest.

BAY HILL.

The summer term was under the instruction of Miss Mary E. Foss. The examination showed that thorough, practical work had been done in all branches, and the ability of the pupils to put into practice knowledge gained, was convincing proof that united effort, progressive methods and systematic discipline had been the means employed to bring about such commendable results.

The first nine weeks of the fall term were taught by Miss Florence A. Hill. The remaining weeks by Miss Mabel W. Glines. Misses Hill and Glines are teachers of experience and to secure their services is a guarantee of a successful school.

CENTER.

Summer term taught by Miss Florence A. Hill. Fall term by Miss Mary E. Foss. Their methods of teaching are excellent and the examinations showed very satisfactory results.

DEPOT.

Summer term taught by Miss Sara M. Prince. This was her first experience in teaching and a lack of order was noticed. Had there been more cooperation on the part of parents, better results would have been attained.

Fall term, first ten weeks taught by Miss Josephine Emery. Miss Emery is an excellent teacher, and this was a successful term of school.

It is sufficient to say that the last eight weeks of the term were taught by Miss Etta F. Heath.

HODGDON.

Summer term taught by Miss Etta F. Heath with excellent success. Fall term taught by Miss Alice G. Shaw. This was her first experience in teaching. Miss Shaw worked hard for the interest of her pupils, and met with good success. Experience will make her a fine teacher.

RAND.

The summer and fall terms were taught by Miss Kate Forrest. That the school was pleasant, profitable and successful is sufficient without further comment.

TEBBETS.

This school was under the care of Miss Nellie A. Clark. Miss Clark labored for the interest of her scholars with good success. A little better discipline would have been more beneficial.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE
BOARD OF EDUCATION,
UNION DISTRICT.

The Board of Education in Union School District respectfully submits its report.

With one exception the same corps of teachers has been in power as last year. We believe they have all been persistent in their efforts to do good work.

Monthly meetings of teachers and Board have been held during the winter, for the consideration of pertinent topics, which have resulted in considerable enthusiasm.

Concerning books and supplies, we have purchased a physiological chart, have introduced a new series of geographies to take the place of Butler's, which were worn out and had to be replaced, and adopted an algebra and a grammar better suited to our grades than those previously in use.

We have also introduced a Physiology and Hygiene. A text book having special reference to the effects of stimulants and narcotics on the human system.

The chief difficulty that has confronted us, and one we have not been able to overcome, is lack of room. We have more pupils than our school house can accommodate.

In order to systematize the primary grades and thereby economize in teachers and space, we have been forced to make a rule, which was imperative under the circumstances, that no child should enter the primary school after the first Monday in October, in each school year, unless qualified to enter an existing class. But this has brought only temporary relief. At the opening of the fall term, there were fifty-three pupils registered in the primary room and but forty eight desks. Several children were pushed ahead into the next room. Here in turn was a surplus and another forced promotion had to be made.

The intermediate room is large, and here the overflow ceased. But here were three classes where there should have been but two, and the work done was not what it ought to have been. Grade lines have been broken and while our school-house remains as it is, there is no hope for improvement. There is a crying need for another teacher and another room at once, for the accommodation of a first intermediate grade. This would allow a raising and strengthening of our grade system, which all must admit is highly desirable.

Our School building will have to be shingled before another winter, and some better method for ventilation ought to be devised.

This report is offered as a report of progress. Our schools are not all they ought to be for a number of reasons. The chief reason has been mentioned. Another, is lack of interest and co-operation among parents. Parents do not visit schools often enough. It is a personal duty which every father and mother owe their children, to become familiar with, not merely what is taught them, but with how they are taught, and to further the teachers' efforts by home influence.

The number of pupils in attendance in the various rooms during the past year is as follows:

First Primary,	boys, 35	girls, 31
Second “	“ 30	“ 18
Intermediate,	“ 24	“ 13
First Grammar,	“ 20	“ 16

In March 1895 the towns voted to authorize the use of a part of the appropriation for the salary of the Librarian. For five years after the opening of the Library his salary was paid by private subscription, but so many of the members of the Association died and moved away, it became impossible to collect sufficient money for this purpose, and the salary was unpaid from sometime in 1893. Since everyone had the free use of the Library it was thought no more than fair that this item of expense came from the general appropriation rather than from private individuals, and the towns, by their votes, adopted the same view. Therefore this year his overdue and current salary has been paid, and hereafter there will be a proportionate larger amount of money for books. The Library is well patronized, the circulation being over 12,000 volumes a year. Citizens having in mind books they would like added to the Library are requested to hand in lists to the Librarian, from which the trustees may make selections in purchasing.
